

Project Oversight Update for the attention of Directors/Trustees

Background

The Charity Commission for England and Wales (under which WACC UK is a registered charity) identifies six main duties – legal obligations – of Directors/Trustees.

- Ensure your charity is carrying out its purposes for the public benefit.
- Comply with your charity's governing document and the law.
- Act in your charity's best interests.
- Ensure your charity is accountable.
- Manage your charity's resources responsibly.
- Act with reasonable care and skill.

WACC's current charitable objects for the public benefit are:

- * the prevention and relief of poverty;
- * the promotion of sustainable development;
- * the promotion of gender equality;
- * the promotion of human rights, particularly but not exclusively those rights defined in Article 19 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights;
- * and the promotion of religious harmony;

throughout the world, as an expression of the Christian faith, in particular (but without limitation) through promoting access to communication.

Sustainable development means "development which meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs."

In furthering the above objects, the Charity shall work in cooperation with people of all faiths and none.

As part of their duties, Directors/Trustees must be regularly informed about the projects and programmes financially supported by WACC.

Staff provide programme reports to the Board which, together with WACC's annual reports, cover WACC's activities at any given time. However, it is also necessary for Directors/Trustees to be informed of project details and to be assured that due diligence is being carried out in the selection of project partners.

Due diligence

In this regard, and as a mandatory part of project selection, potential partners are required to submit:

- Project Application Form
- Budget Template
- Two letters of reference from two individuals representing verifiable national or international organizations (other than your own) who are familiar with your organization. The letters are expected to comment on your organization's past work and suitability to undertake the proposed project.
- Organizational Profile
- Proof of legal registration as civil society non-profit organization in your country
- The organization's latest financial statements, ideally audited
- Signed WACC Safeguarding Policy
- Signed WACC Communications Guidelines

WACC is also obliged to consult sanctions lists regularly updated by the US government, the European Union, and the UK government. Due diligence extends not just to the selection of project partners, but also to those with whom project partners intend to work.

Communication for All Programme (CAP)

The Communication for All Programme (CAP) is delivered under two consecutive grant agreements with Brot für die Welt (BfdW). The tables below report on all projects under each agreement that recorded a financial transaction during 2025 and 2026. Figures are stated in euros. "Funds released" reflects total disbursements to each project to date; project status reflects whether final reports have been received and the project closed.
